Message from Andrew Heyn

British Consul General to Hong Kong and Macao

It gives me great pleasure to extend my warmest congratulations on the occasion of the 4th Hong Kong International Music Festival (HKIMF).

Since its inception in 2013, the HKIMF has established itself as an international music festival which brings people of different ages together to explore and appreciate the magic of music. It is very encouraging to see that the HKIMF is making an even wider connection with participants and partners this year through its diverse programmes, attracting both local and overseas talent reflecting Hong Kong's status as a truly international city that is imbued with creativity and inspiration.

Music is a universal language, and it is a gift to us all, which is why it is so important the events like the HKIMF provide an opportunity for so many people to celebrate the joy of music-making, as well as fostering cross-cultural understanding and connections.

I wish the organisers, participants and audiences of the HKIMF a truly memorable experience this year.

Message Hong Kong International Music Festival 2017 Anniversary magazine

My congratulations to the Hong Kong International Music Festival as it celebrates its fourth anniversary.

Since 2013, the Festival has brought international musicians, singers and artists to Hong Kong to showcase a broad spectrum of musical genres – introducing local audiences to a world of musical possibilities and promoting Chinese musical traditions to a wider audience as well.

Apart from being a global platform for instrumental and vocal performances, the Festival also reflects a belief that to encourage and promote engagement with music and the arts is to provide a valuable service to culture and the community.

My best wishes to the Festival and its organisers in all their future endeavours.

On behalf of The Hong Kong Academy for Performing Arts, it gives me great pleasure to extend my congratulations to the HKIMF on presenting the Hong Kong International Music Festival 2017.

The HKIMF offers an important platform for young talented musicians by offering a wide range of programmes and educational experiences including concerts, ensembles and competitions and music camps.

May I also take this opportunity to thank the HKIMF for continuing to hold the Festival which brings together children of all ages who share the same passion for music while also providing opportunities for cross-cultural exchanges.

I wish this year's Music Festival every success. I also look forward to seeing the progress of these young musicians in their professional pursuits in the years to come.
